From the President

A Fond Farewell

Congratulations to the Class of 2002. You have been a wonderful class, upbeat and enthusiastic. We, the faculty, staff and all of the students at High Point University, are proud of you.

As a result of what has transpired in our society and especially in our own country, this has been a difficult year. Still there have been grand moments. We have seen our country pulling together in ways that most of us have never seen. Someone once said that our civilization is a Judeo-Christian civilization; others call it democracy. When it succeeds, it is a little bit of both, and when it works, we need not fear about the future of freedom. We could not be more proud of students, faculty and staff for participating in all the many endeavors to enhance the grieving families and all the others caught in the catastrophes which faced us this past year. You, the students, worked overtime by giving blood, service, and even money to those in need. On behalf of the University, I thank you.

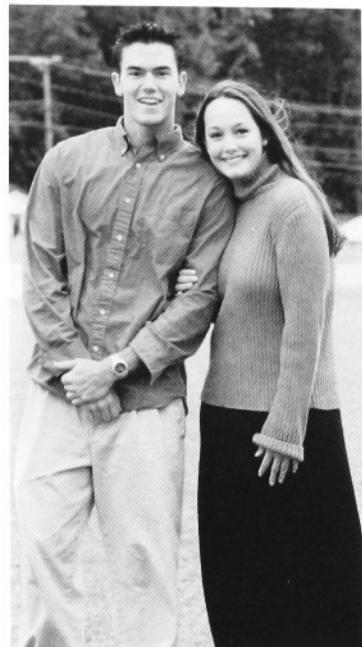

I hope particularly the Class of 2002 will look back over the past years and say this has been a wonderful experience. I feel certain that you will. I also know that many, many of you do not want to leave, and that is as it should be. It reminds me of a little girl in Japan who, at the end of a wonderful day of play with her American friends, asked permission to say her evening prayers in her own words. This is what she said: "Thank you, God, for a pleasant day." Then she paused, thinking what she would say next, and added, "I hope you've had a good time, too." I hope you've had a good time because we've certainly enjoyed having you, and hopefully what you have done here will bring God pleasure as well.

Orientation

A typical day during orientation started around 9 am with breakfast in the cafeteria and ended after midnight. Each aspect of the program had its own branch, like transportation, entertainment, and food. The entertainment committee created excitement with something to do each night of the week while the food committee provided the Coke truck and food at every event. The testing committee made sure freshmen and transfers knew where to go and what to do. The registration committee greeted incoming students with their packets about everything they needed to know to get through orientation.

The main focus of training the orientation committee as a whole involved teamwork and lots of communication. At the end of the week, all 30 members of the team felt that the week had been a success.

Everyday Life

How students make themselves at home on campus.

Besides going to class, High Point students find time to enjoy other aspects of life on campus. They sit out on the benches or relax in the new swings and chat with friends, or they zone out in front of the tube for some of the many addictive shows television has to offer.

Students also enjoy exercising as a way to relax. The weight room, aerobic room and raquetball courts are always busy and keep students occupied during the week as well as on weekends.

It's not uncommon to walk through campus and see students hanging out of their windows or sitting on their balcony enjoying the beautiful North Carolina weather.

But the main reason students are on campus is to study and learn, and we salute the efforts of each and every one.

Derby Day

Tank Floyd, Assistant Dean of Students for Campus Life, gives a few details for organization.

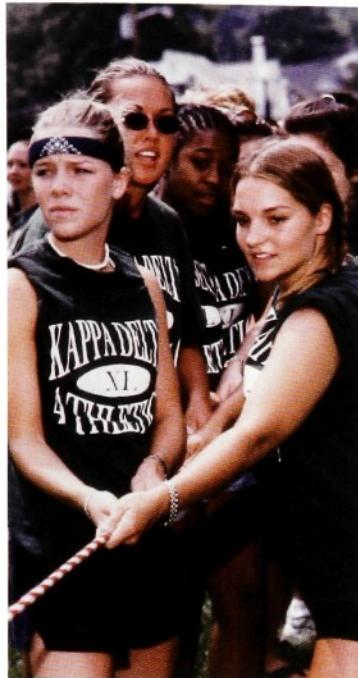

Derby Day at High Point University was started by the Greek organizations and is now celebrated for freshmen who come to the University to start off their year with a bang. It also serves as a way for students to get to know others on their hall.

Fraternities, sororities, and clubs come together for events such as the mattress race, hippity hop, three-legged race, dizzy bats, tug of war, and water balloon toss. Teams from organizations and residence halls came out to participate for a day of food, fun, and excitement.

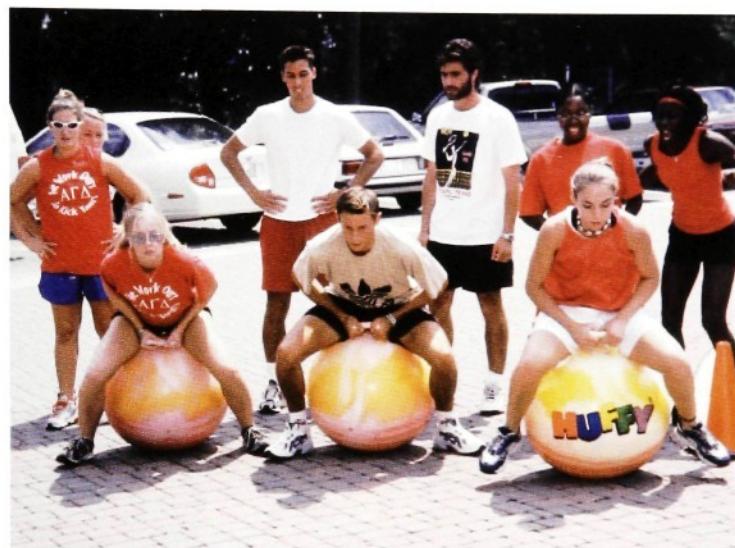

And they're off! These Gams shoulder the responsibility of winning the mattress race for their sisters.

Homecoming Parade

Floats and cars roll through campus to create that festive spirit.

The Homecoming Parade is an annual event when all organizations drive around Sixth Street showing Panther pride. The events of September 11, 2001, inspired a more patriotic theme for this year's parade. Students Amanda Alonzy, Natalie Corbin, Kelly Green and Lauren Stolzer even went so far as to paint the rock with stars and stripes.

The parade marks the end of Greek Week, but the excitement grows as the Homecoming Court is announced later in the evening at the dance. Nominations by students were taken all week in the cafeteria, and candidates for the Homecoming Queen were Joelle Davis, Terri Moorehead, Candi Harbottle, Vaneisha Paynter, and Jessica Hunter. Big Man on Campus nominations were Andy Hardney, David Gouge, John Neidecker, and Teddy Hart.

Homecoming

*The University celebrates its 77th
Homecoming with the annual formal dance honoring

October 6, 2001, was the date of Homecoming which was held at the Showplace Atrium in downtown High Point. Bringing together the alumni and undergraduates, it is one of the most exciting times of the year. It's filled with elegance, entertainment, school spirit, and the enthusiasm of being or having been a student who attends High Point University.

The theme of this year's event was "A Night on Bourbon Street" which was put together by SGA Vice President Joelle Davis. The dance was a huge success with partygoers gathering to do the electric slide and other fun moves as they put away work and school for one evening.

The Homecoming Court was introduced and Terri Moorehead was crowned queen while Andy Hardney was chosen as Big Man on Campus.

He may have on a silly hat, but he's a pretty good dancer!

Where the Fun Is

Student Activities Board plans fun and games for the campus

Ask students about what they do for excitement and the answer is usually something to do with an SAB event. The Student Activities Board supplies them with a wide variety of activities ranging from comedians to bingo to movie night, and even an occasional caricature artist.

Every year, students at the University can anticipate a growing number of old and new events. Students are provided with a calendar each semester to keep them informed of the events funded by the Student Activities fee that each student pays.

Seniors have learned long ago not to show up fashionably late for these events as being tardy can make the difference between having 1 bingo card or 2 to play. All in all, SAB provides students with safe and fun events that any other school would love to have.

Family Weekend

In recognition of those who died on Sept. 11, 2001, a daffodil garden was planted on the ravine outside the Slane Center. Mrs. Martinson participates with students, parents, and faculty.

The Food Fair was a delight to the palates of students and parents.

A full schedule of events awaited family and friends as they arrived on campus November 9-11 for Family Weekend. Special meals were planned to entice families to dine in the cafeteria, such as candlelight dinners, special brunches, and breakfast with the President. The International Club hosted a Food Fair at which everyone could sample foods from many different countries.

Ongoing events all weekend were the performances by the Tower Players of "Into the Woods" and the student art exhibit in the auditorium lobby. Sporting events included a golf tournament, a women's volleyball game, and an exhibition men's basketball game against an international team, which the Panthers won.

The weekend culminated on Sunday with a performance by the University Woodwind Ensemble, a worship service in Hayworth Chapel, and the daffodil planting ceremony. Families of High Point students got a chance to see just how special time at the University can be.

"Into the Woods"

The Tower Players, in collaboration with University programs in theater and music, presented "Into the Woods," a musical by Stephen Sondheim and James Lapine. Classic fairy tales (Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk, Little Red Riding Hood, and others) are woven with the tale of a baker and his wife. They seek to break a spell of childlessness laid upon them by a crabby witch.

In the hilarious first act, the characters plot to get their wishes by whatever means necessary. In Act Two, a furious giantess arrives by beanstalk to seek revenge for her murdered husband. Events turn serious as the characters learn about community responsibilities, the penalties of greed, and the consequences of their own actions.

CROP Walk 2001

Putting the best foot forward (again and again) to help the community

The High Point CROP Walk is one of over 2000 communities who walk to raise money for world and local hunger needs. High Point has sponsored a CROP Walk each year since 1983, raising over $315,000. The Walk is a 3-mile walk, and starts and ends at High Point University. Students from the University volunteer to help with the preparation, registration and other responsibilities during the walk. This year they also cooked hot dogs and hamburgers for all the walkers. There were approximately 400 walkers from 27 churches and organizations.

The CROP Walk also supports efforts to address local hunger needs. Church World Service returns 25% of the money raised from each community back to that community to help meet hunger needs. The High Point CROP Walk supports Open Door Ministries' Father's Table, a soup kitchen that every day serves hot and nutritious meals to the poor and homeless. The Father's Table served over 86,000 meals to people in our local community in 2000. This year, they project that they will serve over 100,000 meals.

Greek Week

Organizations come together for the sake of fun and games.

Greek Week at High Point University is a time for all the Greek organizations to put aside their differences for fun field events and other activities. The events for the 2001-02 Greek Week were the volleyball game, painting of the rock, Derby Day events, bowling night and the infamous Lip Sync Contest. All the events were a smash.

The teams this year were Zeta Tau Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi, Alpha Gamma Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Mu and Theta Chi, Kappa Delta and Pi Kappa Alpha. Each team made a good showing while displaying their collective competitive spirits. First place winner was the Zeta Tau Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi team. Congratulations!

Life on Campus

High Point students and faculty spend most of their time on campus. With so many activities from which to choose, it's hard to be bored. Students enjoy everything from working on-campus jobs to hanging out with their friends.

Students can gather at The Point to eat and chat. The Indigo Club is another hot spot on campus. Students can enjoy a game of pool while catching up on last week's activities. It's a place to unwind after a long day of classes.

Students who don't participate in Division I sports get involved in intramural sports. They show their school spirit while playing basketball, soccer, and even flag football. Intramural sports offer students the opportunity to participate on a more casual level.

Outdoor Activities Club

The Outdoor Activities Club provides opportunities for students to participate in various outdoor activities throughout the year. These trips allow for travel to different states and geographic regions in the United States. Some of the activities may take place in our very own backyard and include the opportunity to camp, raft, cave, backpack, and experience the many wonders of nature. The outings are rewarding and timeless, which in the end, create lifelong friendships and memories. The experience of hiking through wind-gusting rains, as a team paddling over monstrous waves, and sitting amongst a wood-burning campfire ring in an effort to dry out soaked clothes is a bonding experience and the best feeling in the world.

2nd Annual British Debate

The Student Activities Board and Cultural Affairs Committee teamed up to present the second annual British Debate featuring a team of four student members of the Cambridge Union Society and Four High Point University students in an international style debate. The Cambridge Union Society is one of the world's most renowned debating organizations founded in 1815.

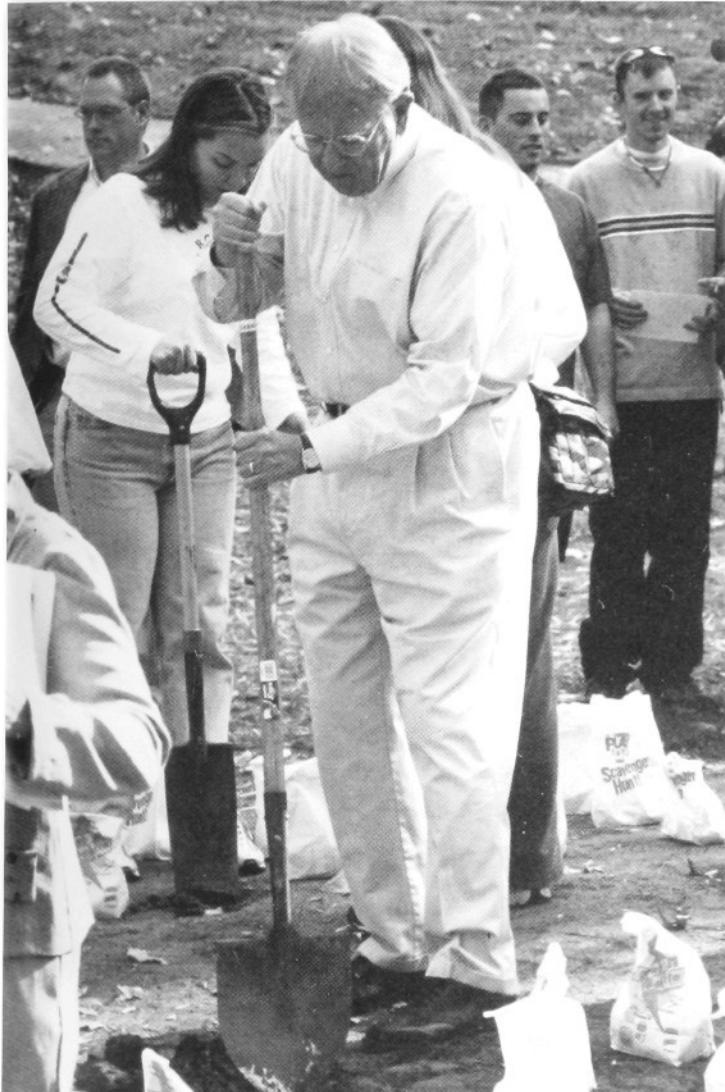

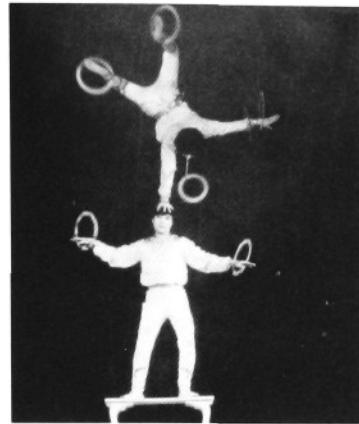

This year's Cambridge team featured Seb Isaac, a 2nd year Social and Political Science major at Trinity college (England); Kym Taylor, a Master Degree of Law student at Sidney Sussex College (Kym is also a graduate of Adelaide University - Australia); David Peters, a freshman law student at Trinity Hall; and Mark Lixenberg, a freshman law student at Gonville and Caius.

The High Point University team featured SGA President David Gouge, a Political Science and Philosophy double major; Sarah Griffe, a 2001 graduate of HPU; Shaun Davis, SGA Appropriations Committee Chair and Business Marketing major; and Roderick Dickson, a Business and CIS double major with 350 college credits earned!

The hotly contested topic of the debate was "Children Should be Told Only Politically Correct Fairy Tales". Despite terrific arguments by the house, the opposition won the debate 32-8 with many abstentions.

IDS Cultural Enrichment

Introducing students to different cultures and various ways of the world

Chapel services, daffodil planting, peeking acrobats - just a few of the activities brought to students via IDS. By going to the seven IDS sponsored events on and off campus, students may receive a credit towards graduation. Some of the events include lectures, plays and videos. Students can take this class twice during their years at High Point University.

The Judges: Ms. Nita Williams, Kenny, Darius Mooring, Chris Huff.

Sayoko Oda takes 3rd place with a performance of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" on the piano.

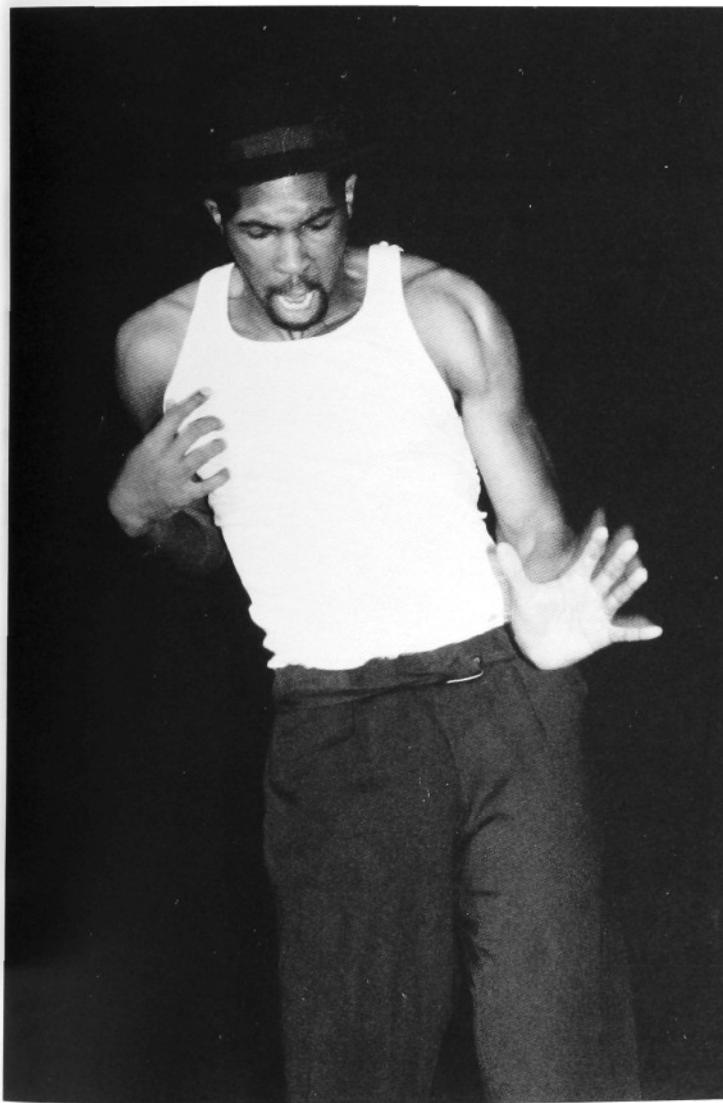

The TOCatta Tones featuring Chris Holmes, Baron Heinemann, Mike Maykish, Adam Canavassi, and Josh McAfee take 1st place with their a capella rendition of Billy Joel's "For the Longest Time."

Emcee Neese Smith kept the show flowing smoothly with lively commentary and "Say What Karaoke" between acts.

Frank Johnson takes the cash for lip synching to "What's Your Fantasy" by Ludacris during a "Say What Karaokez" break.

Jay Wallace dances his way to 2nd place with a Michael Jackson-like performance.

Jason and Lilly win 1st place dancing to "More Than A Woman" by Aaliyah.

13th Annual Student Talent Show

The 13th Annual High Point University Student Talent Show featured seven acts that performed before a standing-room only crowd at the Empty Space Theater on Saturday, March 23, 2002. The talent show proved to be the perfect ending of the SAB "Springadellic" spring week celebration. Because the vocal acts got shut out of any prize money last year, SAB decided the offer prizes in two categories: 1) vocalist and 2) other performing artist.

In the vocal competition, TOCatta Tones, and five-piece a capella group took first prize with their rendition of Billy Joel's "For the Longest Time", Ron Barrow earned second place with an uplifting gospel song. Vernon Bryant took third place with the soulful ballad "Where I Wanna Be" by Darrell Jones.

In the other performing arts category, Jason Williams and Lilly Wilson earned first place with a dance routine to Aaliyah's "More Than A Woman". Jay Wallace earned second place with a Michael Jackson dance routine. Third place went to Sayoko Oda with a performance of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" in the piano.

One of the unexpected highlights of the talent show was the MTV style "Say What Karaoke" lip sync performances by members of the audience. Students dance and lip-synched to songs with no rehearsal or knowledge of what song would be played by the DJ. Cash and prizes were awarded.

Todd Carter

In Loving Memory

June 1967 - June 2001

Only a month after High Point students and faculty bid farewell to each other for the summer, a tragedy brought nearly 1,000 friends, family members, and students of Mr. Todd Owen Carter back to campus. Carter, instructor of music and director of choral and instrumental ensembles, died June 2 at Wake Forest Baptist Medical Center after a long battle with Hodgkin's disease that caused pneumonia. He was 34.

Born in Four Oaks, Carter earned degrees from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Enthusiasm for his calling and a special ability to relate to students distinguished Carter's time at HPU.

Months after his death, students, fellow faculty members, and friends are still trying to cope with such a loss. "Todd Carter was brilliant. He had an aesthetic taste beyond music and was one of the most courageous men I've ever known," said Dr. Jacob Martinson, High Point University President. "Todd's death has left our family more sorrowful than words can ever begin to express. However, in the wake of his passing, we already find comfort in Todd's legacy as it lives on in our community," said Cathy Weaver, Todd's sister.

"He called me his honorary third sister," said Dr. Alexa Schlimmer, associate professor of music. "He was my best friend. I miss him a lot," Schlimmer concluded, "but I see Todd's influence in his students and my kids, and I also have a sister who is a female version of him." "His death and suffering were a real tragedy," said Dr. Hal Warlick, minister to the University. "He was well thought of by all who knew him."

Students of High Point University all loved Todd Carter who was not only a professor, but a mentor and devoted friend. The last paragraph of the University Conduct Code states, in part, "When we leave High Point University, we shall leave it better than we found it..." Todd Carter will always have a special place in our hearts, because he left High Point University better than he found it.

Todd Carter is survived by his wife, Catherine Tucker.
